

Proverbs 13:18

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Poverty and shame shall be to him that refuseth instruction:
but he that regardeth reproof shall be honoured.

Analysis

Poverty and shame shall be to him that refuses instruction, but he that regards reproof shall be honored. Rejecting teaching brings both material want and social disgrace. Heeding correction brings honor. This verse links intellectual humility with practical outcomes - teachability leads to flourishing; unteachability leads to ruin. The contrast emphasizes that consequences follow character - proud resistance produces shame; humble receptivity produces honor.

Historical Context

Reflects wisdom tradition where receiving instruction enabled prosperity while rejecting it caused failure. Ancient apprenticeship systems made this principle observable - teachable learners advanced; resistant ones failed.
