

Proverbs 13:7

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

There is that maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing: there is that maketh himself poor, yet hath great riches.

Analysis

---

There is that makes himself rich, yet has nothing; there is that makes himself poor, yet has great riches. Appearances deceive - some feign wealth while actually poor; some appear poor while actually rich. The verse warns against trusting outward appearance versus reality. True wealth isn't displayed possessions but genuine resources. Some sacrifice true riches for appearance of wealth; others possess true wealth without display.

Historical Context

Reflects ancient society's class distinctions and status symbols. Some impoverished themselves maintaining appearances; some wealthy lived modestly. The proverb values substance over show.
