

Proverbs 14:2

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

He that walketh in his uprightness feareth the LORD: but he that is perverse in his ways despiseth him.

Analysis

This verse presents a foundational principle: your behavior reveals your theology. Walking 'in his uprightness' (Hebrew 'yosher'—straightness, integrity) demonstrates fear of the Lord, while 'perverse in his ways' (Hebrew 'naloz'—twisted, crooked) shows contempt. Reformed theology emphasizes that genuine faith produces corresponding works (James 2:26). We cannot claim to fear God while living perversely. The connection between vertical relationship (fear of the Lord) and horizontal conduct (walking uprightly) is inseparable. True piety affects every dimension of life.

Historical Context

The 'fear of the Lord' is foundational to Israel's covenant relationship with Yahweh. It combines reverence, awe, obedience, and trust—not servile terror but covenant faithfulness responding to God's character.
