

Proverbs 15:26

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

The thoughts of the wicked are an abomination to the LORD:
but the words of the pure are pleasant words.

Analysis

The thoughts of the wicked are an abomination to the LORD: but the words of the pure are pleasant words. To'avat YHVH machshevot ra (תוֹעַבָּת יְהוָה מְחַשְּׁבֹת רָעָה), an abomination to the LORD are thoughts of evil). God finds wicked machashavot (thoughts, plans, schemes) abominable. Uthorim imrey-no'am (ותְּהֻרִים אִמְרִים), but pure ones—pleasant words). The pure person's words are no'am (נעם, pleasant, lovely, delightful). God judges not only actions but thoughts. Jesus taught that evil proceeds from hearts (Matthew 15:19). Believers must take every thought captive to Christ (2 Corinthians 10:5).

Historical Context

Israel's prophets confronted not only outward idolatry but heart idolatry (Ezekiel 14:3-5). God sees thoughts no human sees. This proverb warns against assuming hidden thoughts are safe from judgment. Jesus intensified this in the Sermon on the Mount, equating anger with murder and lust with adultery (Matthew 5:21-22, 27-28). True purity requires transformed hearts producing pure thoughts and words.
