

Proverbs 16:19

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Better it is to be of an humble spirit with the lowly, than to divide the spoil with the proud.

Analysis

Better it is to be of an humble spirit with the lowly, than to divide the spoil with the proud. Tov shefal-ruach et-anavim (טוב שפֿל־רוח אֶת־עֲנָוִים, better lowly of spirit with the humble). Mechalleq shalal et-ge'im (מַחֲלֵק שָׁלַל אֶת־גִּבּוֹרִים, than dividing plunder with the proud). Humble poverty beats proud prosperity. The proverb values character over material gain. Jesus blessed the poor in spirit (Matthew 5:3) and warned against prideful wealth. James 4:6 declares God resists the proud but gives grace to the humble. True riches come through humility, not pride.

Historical Context

Ancient warfare brought spoils to victors. Dividing plunder represented wealth and success. Yet this proverb says humble poverty is better. Israel's history vindicated this—proud kings who gained much (like Saul keeping Amalekite spoil, 1 Samuel 15) fell, while humble servants (like David) prospered. Jesus modeled humble poverty over proud wealth (2 Corinthians 8:9, Philippians 2:5-8).
