

Proverbs 2:21

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

For the upright shall dwell in the land, and the perfect shall remain in it.

Analysis

The upright shall dwell in the land, and the perfect (temimim - complete, blameless) shall remain in it. This verse echoes covenant promises where faithfulness resulted in secure possession of the promised land. While primarily temporal for Israel, the principle extends spiritually - covenant faithfulness brings secure inheritance. Ultimately fulfilled in believers' eternal inheritance, the new heaven and earth where righteousness dwells (2 Pet 3:13).

Historical Context

Directly recalls Deuteronomic covenant - obedience meant remaining in the land, disobedience meant exile. Written during Solomon's reign when the promise was fulfilled, yet warning that continued possession depended on continued faithfulness.
