

Proverbs 21:7

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

The robbery of the wicked shall destroy them; because they refuse to do judgment.

Analysis

The wicked's violence 'shall destroy them' because they refuse to do judgment. The Hebrew 'shadad' (destroy/devastate) and 'garar' (drag away) suggest being swept away by consequences of their own violence. Reformed theology's doctrine of God's justice affirms that sin carries intrinsic consequences. Those who live by the sword die by it (Matthew 26:52). The wicked's refusal to practice justice ('mishpat') results in being destroyed by their own injustice. This is both natural consequence and divine judgment.

Historical Context

Israel's history showed violent rulers brought down by violence—Absalom's rebellion against David, Zimri's assassination and quick demise, and foreign invasions resulting from covenant unfaithfulness.
