

Proverbs 23:7

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

For as he thinketh in his heart, so is he: Eat and drink, saith he to thee; but his heart is not with thee.

Analysis

The miserly person's external invitation masks an unwilling heart—their calculation betrays their grudging generosity. This warns against receiving hospitality from those who give resentfully. It also challenges us to examine our own motives for giving, ensuring generosity flows from love, not compulsion.

Historical Context

Hospitality customs in ancient Near East demanded feeding guests, even when resources were scarce. Some complied outwardly while inwardly resenting the cost, violating the spirit of generous welcome.
