

Proverbs 25:7

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

For better it is that it be said unto thee, Come up hither; than that thou shouldest be put lower in the presence of the prince whom thine eyes have seen.

Analysis

Better to be told 'Come up here' than humiliated before nobles. The Hebrew 'alah' (go up/ascend) versus 'shaphel' (be made low/humiliated) describes honor versus shame. Humility that's later exalted experiences greater glory than pride that's publicly humiliated. Tactical wisdom joins moral virtue here: humility is both right and smart. Pride brings fall; humility brings honor. This anticipates James 4:10: 'Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.'

Historical Context

Ancient honor-shame cultures made public humiliation devastating. Being demoted publicly destroyed reputation and social standing. Conversely, public elevation brought honor to whole family. This verse offers both moral teaching (be humble) and practical wisdom (humility works better). Throughout Scripture, God exalts the humble and humbles the proud (1 Peter 5:5-6).

1. Have you experienced God 'moving you up' after humble service or 'moving you down' after prideful presumption?
2. How does pursuing humility strategically (for promotion) differ from pursuing humility virtuously (for godliness)?
3. What would complete indifference to human honor and shame look like if you only sought God's approval?
