

Proverbs 3:20

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

By his knowledge the depths are broken up, and the clouds drop down the dew.

Analysis

God's wisdom is displayed in creation. The Hebrew 'da'ath' (knowledge) describes not abstract information but skillful expertise. The depths breaking open and clouds dropping dew illustrate God's ordered governance of natural processes. This verse grounds wisdom in creation theology - the same wisdom by which God made the world is offered to us for living in it. Understanding creation's design principles helps us live wisely.

Historical Context

Ancient cosmology viewed seas and atmospheric waters as primordial chaos requiring divine control. This verse affirms God's sovereign ordering of these forces through His wisdom, contrasting with pagan myths of gods battling chaos monsters. Israel's creation theology was distinctively monotheistic and orderly.
