

Proverbs 30:11

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

There is a generation that curseth their father, and doth not bless their mother.

Analysis

There is a generation that curseth their father, and doth not bless their mother—Agur shifts to 'four generations' (vv. 11-14) describing moral degradation. Dôr (דֹר, generation) can mean age-group or type of people. Qālal (קָלַל, curseth) means despise, treat with contempt—direct violation of the fifth commandment (Exodus 20:12). Refusing to bless (bārak, בָּרַךְ) is passive dishonor.

Parental honor is foundational to biblical morality—the first commandment with a promise (Ephesians 6:2). Its breakdown signals societal collapse. Paul lists disobedience to parents among end-times sins (2 Timothy 3:2). Jesus condemned Pharisees who used religious loopholes to avoid honoring parents (Mark 7:9-13).

Historical Context

Ancient Israel's fifth commandment carried the death penalty for striking or cursing parents (Exodus 21:15, 17), showing how seriously God takes filial honor. The extended family structure made parental respect essential for social cohesion. Agur observes a generation abandoning this foundation.
