

Proverbs 5:8

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Remove thy way far from her, and come not nigh the door of her house:

Analysis

Remove your way far from the adulteress, and don't come near her house's door. The imperatives demand radical avoidance - don't merely resist but flee. Joseph's example (Gen 39) demonstrates this wisdom - when faced with sexual temptation, he fled. The specific mention of her door emphasizes avoiding even proximity to temptation. This reflects Reformed understanding that humans are weak; therefore wisdom requires not testing oneself but avoiding danger.

Historical Context

Reflects ancient social structure where visiting a woman's home in her husband's absence created opportunity and suspicion. The command recognizes human weakness requiring environmental safeguards, not just willpower.
