

Proverbs 6:15

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Therefore shall his calamity come suddenly; suddenly shall he be broken without remedy.

Analysis

Calamity will come suddenly; in a moment he'll be destroyed without remedy. The Hebrew 'peta' (suddenly/instant) and 'sheber' (breaking/destruction) describe catastrophic judgment arriving without warning. 'No remedy' ('ein marpeh') indicates irreversible ruin. This verse warns that divine patience has limits. God endures long, but judgment eventually falls decisively. Presuming on patience leads to sudden destruction.

Historical Context

Biblical history demonstrates this pattern: Noah's flood, Sodom/Gomorrah's fire, Korah's earth-swallowing, Ananias/Sapphira's death - all came suddenly after persistent sin. Second Peter 3:9-10 teaches God's patience shouldn't be mistaken for inaction: 'The Lord...is longsuffering...not willing that any should perish...But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night.'
