

Proverbs 6:22

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

When thou goest, it shall lead thee; when thou sleepest, it shall keep thee; and when thou awakest, it shall talk with thee.

Analysis

Wisdom will guide when you walk, watch when you sleep, speak when you wake. The comprehensive temporal coverage (walking, sleeping, waking) indicates constant companionship. The Hebrew 'nachah' (lead/guide), 'shamar' (watch/guard), and 'siychah' (speak/meditate) describe active benefits. Wisdom isn't passive knowledge but dynamic companion providing direction, protection, and conversation. This anticipates the Holy Spirit's promised companionship in the New Covenant.

Historical Context

Psalm 119:97-105 similarly celebrates God's Word as constant companion: meditation day and night, lamp to feet, sweeter than honey. For the psalmist, Scripture wasn't occasional reference but constant friend. Early Christians memorized vast Scripture portions, making God's Word truly portable and constantly accessible for guidance, comfort, and meditation.
