

Proverbs 7:27

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Her house is the way to hell, going down to the chambers of death.

Analysis

Her house is the way to Sheol, descending to chambers of death. The Hebrew 'sheowl' (grave/death/underworld) and 'maweth' (death) describe final destination. Sexual sin's path descends progressively deeper into destruction. It's not lateral movement but downward spiral. Each step leads lower until arriving at death's chambers. The path seems pleasurable but terminates in destruction. Proverbs 5:5 similarly warns: 'Her feet go down to death; her steps take hold on hell.'

Historical Context

Sheol in Old Testament represents death, grave, underworld - place of departed dead. While theological understanding developed through Scripture, Proverbs uses Sheol to indicate death and destruction. Sexual sin's endpoint is comprehensive death - spiritual, relational, potentially physical. Sixteenth-century syphilis epidemics and modern STDs demonstrate literal death consequences. Spiritual and relational death remain constant.
