

Proverbs 8:16

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

By me princes rule, and nobles, even all the judges of the earth.

Analysis

By wisdom princes rule, and nobles judge the earth. Continuing v.15's theme, this verse expands political wisdom's scope - not just kings but princes, nobles, all levels of authority. The Hebrew 'sarar' (princes/leaders) and 'shaphat' (judge) describe comprehensive governmental functions. Wisdom is essential for every level of leadership. Foolish governance at any level produces injustice and harm.

Historical Context

Israel's governmental structure included multiple leadership levels - kings, princes, elders, judges. Each required wisdom for their function. Exodus 18 records Jethro advising Moses to appoint judges at various levels - choosing 'able men, such as fear God, men of truth, hating covetousness' (v.21). Wise governance requires character and competence throughout organizational hierarchy.
