

Proverbs 8:34

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, waiting at the posts of my doors.

Analysis

Blessed is the one who listens to wisdom, watching daily at her gates, waiting at her doorposts. The Hebrew 'ashrey' (blessed/happy), 'shaqad' (watch/wake early), and 'shamar' (watch/keep) describe vigilant attentiveness. Daily watching at gates/doors portrays eager student awaiting teacher, servant awaiting master. Blessing comes to those who prioritize wisdom above all, positioning themselves to receive her first and constantly.

Historical Context

Ancient students literally waited at teachers' doors for instruction. Rabbinical tradition describes disciples serving masters, learning through observation and questioning. Jesus' disciples similarly followed Him constantly, watching and listening. Paul instructed Timothy to 'give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine' (1 Timothy 4:13). Wisdom requires devoted attention, not casual interest.
