

Proverbs 9:7

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

He that reproveth a scorner getteth to himself shame: and he that rebuketh a wicked man getteth himself a blot.

Analysis

Whoever corrects a mocker gets shame; whoever rebukes wicked gets insult. The Hebrew 'yasar' (correct/discipline) and 'yakach' (rebuke/reprove) describe instructive confrontation. But mockers and wicked don't receive correction gratefully - they return shame and insult. This verse warns: some people aren't ready for wisdom. Attempting to instruct those committed to folly brings harm to instructor without benefit to fool.

Historical Context

Jesus taught: 'Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you' (Matthew 7:6). Some people's hardness makes them unable to receive truth. Proverbs 26:4 warns: 'Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest thou also be like unto him.' Wisdom includes discerning when correction is productive versus counterproductive.
