

Psalm 105:14

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

He suffered no man to do them wrong: yea, he reproved kings for their sakes;

Analysis

God 'suffered no man to do them wrong' and 'reproved kings for their sakes.' Despite the patriarchs' vulnerability, God actively protected them from harm. He didn't merely observe but intervened on their behalf, even confronting powerful monarchs. This demonstrates God's covenant faithfulness protects the weak against the strong. Specific instances include Pharaoh and Abimelech (Gen 12:17, 20:3-7). Christ promised that His sheep hear His voice and no one can snatch them from His hand (John 10:27-29). The Reformed doctrine of preservation recognizes God's active protection of His people.

Historical Context

Genesis records multiple instances of God protecting the patriarchs: warning Pharaoh and Abimelech in dreams about Sarah, preventing harm to Isaac, and protecting Jacob from Laban and Esau.
