

Psalm 105:2

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Sing unto him, sing psalms unto him: talk ye of all his wondrous works.

Analysis

The call to 'sing unto him, sing psalms unto him' and 'talk ye of all his wondrous works' emphasizes both corporate worship and daily conversation about God's deeds. Singing psalms was central to Israel's worship, rehearsing God's redemptive history. 'Talk' (siach) suggests meditation and conversation, making God's works the topic of daily discourse. This grounds faith in historical acts, not abstract philosophy. Christ commissioned witnesses to tell what they'd seen (Acts 1:8). The Reformed tradition values both formal worship and informal testimony about God's faithfulness.

Historical Context

Psalm 105 recounts Israel's history from Abraham through the Exodus, serving as liturgical remembrance. This call to sing and speak God's works introduces the historical recitation that follows.
