

Psalms 119:112

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

I have inclined mine heart to perform thy statutes alway, even unto the end.

Analysis

The Samekh (ס) section begins: I have inclined mine heart to perform thy statutes (נָטִיתִי לִבִּי לַעֲשׂוֹת דִּקְיָךְ, natiti libbi la'asot chuqqekha). The verb natah means to bend, stretch out, incline—a deliberate act of will. The heart (lev) in Hebrew encompasses mind, will, and emotions—the control center of the person. This is not passive emotion but active volition bent toward obedience.

To perform (la'asot, to do, make, accomplish) emphasizes action, not mere hearing. Alway, even unto the end (לְעוֹלָם עֲדָה, le'olam edev)—olam means perpetuity, forever; edev means heel, end, reward. The psalmist commits to lifelong obedience until his final breath. This mirrors Jesus's commitment: I do always those things that please him (John 8:29). Caleb exemplified this—he 'wholly followed the LORD' from age 40 to 85 (Josh 14:8-14).

Historical Context

Written in a culture where covenant loyalty was measured by perseverance, not initial enthusiasm. Israel's history showed repeated cycles of devotion followed by apostasy. The psalmist's vow of endurance 'unto the end' addresses this pattern, committing to finish what he started.

Study Questions

1. What does it mean practically to 'incline your heart' toward obedience rather than waiting to feel like obeying?
2. How do you maintain spiritual momentum from initial commitment to final perseverance 'unto the end'?
3. In what areas has your heart drifted from God's statutes that need to be re-inclined through deliberate choice?
