

Psalms 119:147

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

I prevented the dawning of the morning, and cried: I hoped in thy word.

Analysis

I prevented the dawning of the morning (קִדְדַמְתִּי בַּבֹּקֶר, qiddamti va-neshef)—Qadam means to anticipate, come before, precede. The psalmist rose before dawn (neshef, twilight) to pray. And cried: I hoped in thy word—Pre-dawn prayer was not mere discipline but hope-driven petition, anchored in God's promises.

Jesus Himself practiced this: "Rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed" (Mark 1:35). The prophets received revelation in early morning (Isaiah 50:4). Giving God the firstfruits of the day, before the world's demands intrude, demonstrates priority and dependency. Hope in God's Word motivates the sacrifice of sleep and comfort.

Historical Context

Jewish prayer tradition included fixed times (Daniel 6:10), but the most devoted sought God before dawn. The Levites began temple service before sunrise. Early rising for prayer became a mark of piety in rabbinic Judaism.
