

Psalms 119:29

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Remove from me the way of lying: and grant me thy law graciously.

Analysis

Remove from me the way of lying (דֶּרֶךְ־שָׁקֶר הַסֵּר מִמֶּנִּי)—Sheqer (falsehood, deception) encompasses both outright lies and living a false life contrary to truth. The derek (way, path) of lying is a lifestyle of self-deception and dishonesty God must actively remove—we cannot remove it ourselves. And grant me thy law graciously (וְנָתַתָּךְ חֲנּוּן)—The verb chanan (to be gracious, show favor) reveals that even receiving God's torah (instruction, law) is pure grace. We need mercy both to escape deception and to embrace truth.

This couplet exposes two ways: the false way we naturally drift toward, and the true way of God's law we desperately need. The psalmist recognizes that forsaking lies and following Torah both require divine intervention—reformation is grace from start to finish, anticipating Paul's "it is God who works in you" (Philippians 2:13).

Historical Context

Ancient Israel lived surrounded by nations whose gods endorsed ritual prostitution, child sacrifice, and false prophecy—'the way of lying' had cultural momentum. The psalmist's plea reflects living as a covenant minority, constantly tempted to syncretize truth with cultural falsehood, needing God's gracious intervention to maintain distinctiveness.

Study Questions

1. What 'ways of lying' (self-deception, image management, theological compromise) do you need God to actively remove from your life?
2. How does recognizing that receiving God's law is itself grace transform your view of biblical commandments?
3. In what areas are you trying to remove falsehood through willpower instead of crying for gracious divine intervention?
