

Psalms 119:38

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Stablish thy word unto thy servant, who is devoted to thy fear.

Analysis

Stablish thy word unto thy servant (הִקֵּם לְעַבְדְּךָ אֱמֻנָתְךָ)—Qum (to arise, establish, confirm) requests God make His imrah (word, utterance) stand firm in the psalmist's life. The phrase 'thy servant' (avdekha) grounds the request in covenant relationship—God owes no obligation except His own promise to those who serve Him. Who is devoted to thy fear (אִשָּׁר לִירְאָתְךָ)—Yirah (fear, reverence) is the foundational Hebrew virtue: awe-filled worship that produces obedience. The relative clause 'who is devoted' describes the servant's character—the word is established to those who fear God.

This prayer recognizes that possessing Scripture isn't enough—God must establish (make stand, confirm, fulfill) His word experientially in the believer's life. This means both understanding it intellectually and seeing it proven true practically. The connection to fear shows proper worship creates receptivity for God's word to take root and bear fruit. Jesus's parable of the sower illustrates this: only certain soils (hearts) allow the word to be established and produce fruit.

Historical Context

Ancient covenants required both parties to establish (fulfill) their commitments. The psalmist appeals to God's covenant faithfulness, asking Him to confirm His promises to those who maintain reverent fear. In Israel's history, God repeatedly established His word to servants who feared Him: Abraham, Moses, Joshua, David, Daniel.
