

Psalms 119:94

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

I am thine, save me; for I have sought thy precepts.

Analysis

I am thine, save me (לֶכְחָא־אֲנִי הוֹשִׁיעֵנִי lekha-ani hoshi'eni)—Covenant language: lekha (to you, yours) establishes ownership. The psalmist's plea for salvation (yasha, save, deliver) rests not on personal merit but on belonging to God. For I have sought thy precepts (כִּי פִקְדֻדְךָ דָרַשְׁתִּי ki pikkudekha darashti)—Not a claim of perfection, but evidence of regeneration. Darash (seek, inquire, study) implies diligent pursuit, not casual interest.

This mirrors covenant formulae: "I will be your God, and you shall be my people" (Jeremiah 7:23). Salvation flows from relationship, not transaction. The psalmist's seeking precepts demonstrates genuine faith—James 2:18's "show me your faith by your works." Jesus echoed this in John 10:27-28: "My sheep hear my voice... and I give unto them eternal life."

Historical Context

"I am thine" recalls Ruth's pledge to Naomi (Ruth 1:16), the marriage covenant, and Israel's Sinai vow (Exodus 19:8). In ancient Near Eastern treaties, the vassal's declaration "I am yours" acknowledged the suzerain's protective obligation. The psalmist invokes covenant fidelity.

Study Questions

1. How does understanding salvation as belonging to God (rather than acquiring something from Him) change your approach to prayer?
2. In what areas of life do you need to more fully embrace "I am thine"—God's ownership of your time, resources, relationships?
