

Psalms 16:2

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

O my soul, thou hast said unto the LORD, Thou art my Lord:
my goodness extendeth not to thee;

Analysis

David declares 'You are my Lord; I have no good apart from You.' This is comprehensive God-dependence. The Hebrew 'towb' (good) encompasses all blessing and welfare. This anticipates Jesus' teaching that 'no one is good except God alone' (Mark 10:18) and Paul's affirmation that every good gift comes from God (James 1:17). Reformed theology's doctrine of total depravity teaches that apart from God's grace, humanity possesses no spiritual good.

Historical Context

A Michtam of David, possibly composed during exile or flight, when stripped of earthly supports and forced to rely solely on God.
