

Psalms 22:26

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

The meek shall eat and be satisfied: they shall praise the LORD that seek him: your heart shall live for ever.

Analysis

The 'meek' (Hebrew: anavim, humble/afflicted) inherit blessing—a theme Jesus echoed (Matt. 5:5). 'Eat and be satisfied' evokes messianic banquet imagery, anticipating the Lord's Supper and the marriage supper of the Lamb (Rev. 19:9). 'Your heart shall live forever' promises eternal life to those who seek the LORD. Reformed theology sees this as effectual calling: those who seek God do so because God first sought them (John 6:44), and their seeking results in eternal satisfaction.

Historical Context

Temple worship included sacrificial meals where worshipers ate portions of peace offerings. These communal meals symbolized fellowship with God and each other. The language anticipates the greater feast of redemption through Christ.
