

Psalms 25:13

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

His soul shall dwell at ease; and his seed shall inherit the earth.

Analysis

The promise to the God-fearer: 'His soul shall dwell at ease' and 'his seed shall inherit the earth.' 'Dwelling at ease' means spiritual rest and security, not necessarily material comfort. 'Seed inheriting the earth' echoes the Abrahamic promise and Jesus' beatitude (Matt. 5:5). Reformed theology sees covenant blessings extending to believers' children—God's grace flows through generations. While not guaranteeing every child's salvation, this promises God's special favor on covenant families.

Historical Context

In agricultural societies, inheriting land ensured generational survival and prosperity. This promise assured covenant-keepers that God would bless their descendants materially and spiritually, encouraging faithfulness despite present hardships.
