

Psalm 27:7

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Hear, O LORD, when I cry with my voice: have mercy also upon me, and answer me.

Analysis

The cry 'Hear, O LORD, when I cry with my voice: have mercy also upon me, and answer me' combines petition for audience, compassion, and response. 'Hear' asks for divine attention; 'have mercy' asks for compassion; 'answer me' asks for action. Reformed theology emphasizes that prayer is covenant communication—God has bound Himself to hear His people's cries. We don't earn His hearing through eloquence but through relationship. The plea for mercy acknowledges we deserve nothing, yet God graciously responds.

Historical Context

Israel's covenant included promises that God would hear their cries (Ex. 3:7). This assurance sustained prayer through generations. God's hearing didn't depend on merit but on His covenant faithfulness.
