

Psalms 35:25

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Let them not say in their hearts, Ah, so would we have it: let them not say, We have swallowed him up.

Analysis

The heart's secret satisfaction 'Ah, so would we have it' exposes the inner malice preceding outward action. 'We have swallowed him up' uses the Hebrew 'bala' (engulf, destroy completely), the same word for Jonah being swallowed. David prays against both the attitude and the outcome—that enemies would neither mentally gloat nor actually destroy him. This reveals that sin begins internally (Matthew 5:28), making heart transformation essential for true righteousness.

Historical Context

The metaphor of swallowing enemies appears in ancient Near Eastern conquest language, describing total destruction. David fears complete obliteration at enemies' hands, appealing to God for preservation.
