

Psalms 36:4

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

He deviseth mischief upon his bed; he setteth himself in a way that is not good; he abhorreth not evil.

Analysis

Plotting evil 'upon his bed' reveals premeditation—the wicked use rest times for scheming rather than reflection or prayer. 'He setteth himself in a way that is not good' indicates deliberate choice and persistence in evil direction. The climax 'he abhorreth not evil' shows complete moral inversion—not merely doing wrong but losing revulsion toward it. This describes total depravity where conscience is seared (1 Timothy 4:2) and evil becomes normalized.

Historical Context

Ancient wisdom recognized the bed as a place of meditation (Psalm 4:4, 63:6). The wicked pervert this opportunity, using solitude for plotting rather than examining their ways before God.
