

Psalms 43:2

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

For thou art the God of my strength: why dost thou cast me off? why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

Analysis

The paradox intensifies: 'Thou art the God of my strength: why dost thou cast me off?' Faith affirms God's power while honestly acknowledging felt abandonment. 'Why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?' repeats the question from 42:9, emphasizing that faith persists even when answers don't come.

Historical Context

This pattern of affirming God's character while questioning His actions models mature faith that holds confession and complaint together. It rejects both denial of suffering and denial of faith.
