

Psalms 44:1

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

We have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us, what work thou didst in their days, in the times of old.

Analysis

The psalm begins with corporate memory: 'We have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us.' Faith is transmitted through testimony, not merely personal experience. The 'work' God did 'in their days, in the times of old' refers to exodus and conquest, the foundational salvific events of Israel's history.

Historical Context

Intergenerational testimony was commanded in Deuteronomy 6:6-7 and Psalm 78. Israel's identity depended on remembering and retelling God's mighty acts, creating continuity between past redemption and present faith.

Study Questions

1. What role does hearing 'from our fathers' play in sustaining faith?
2. How can we better transmit the stories of God's faithfulness to the next generation?
