

Psalms 44:2

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

How thou didst drive out the heathen with thy hand, and plantedst them; how thou didst afflict the people, and cast them out.

Analysis

God 'didst drive out the heathen' and 'planted' Israel, 'afflicted the people' (Canaanites) and 'cast them out.' The imagery of planting suggests Israel as God's vineyard, cultivated and cared for. The verbs emphasize God's direct action--conquest was not human achievement but divine intervention.

Historical Context

The conquest of Canaan was interpreted as God's holy war, driving out nations judged for centuries of accumulated wickedness (Genesis 15:16). Israel was the instrument of divine judgment and the recipient of divine promise.

Study Questions

1. How does understanding God's initiative in Israel's establishment affect our view of His sovereignty?
2. What does the metaphor of God 'planting' His people suggest about His ongoing care?
