

Psalms 50:22

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Now consider this, ye that forget God, lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver.

Analysis

The warning: 'Now consider this, ye that forget God, lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver.' The invitation to 'consider' offers opportunity for repentance. But continued forgetfulness leads to judgment described in violent imagery. 'None to deliver' emphasizes that no one can rescue from God's judgment.

Historical Context

The lion-tearing imagery appears in prophetic judgment oracles (Hosea 5:14). It depicts God as powerful predator when His patience ends, unlike the silent observer they imagined.

Study Questions

1. What does it mean to 'forget God' while still being religious?
2. How does this warning balance with the earlier invitation to call on God in trouble?
