

Psalms 55:13

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

But it was thou, a man mine equal, my guide, and mine acquaintance.

Analysis

The progression from enemy to 'companion,' 'guide,' and 'acquaintance' emphasizes covenant intimacy violated. The Hebrew 'meyuda' implies one known deeply. This betrayal pain exceeds that from open enemies because it violates trust and shared sacred fellowship. It points to the deeper agony of Christ's betrayal during Passover fellowship.

Historical Context

In ancient Near Eastern culture, sharing meals and religious worship created sacred bonds of loyalty. Violation of such bonds was considered particularly heinous, as reflected in ancient treaties and covenant language.
