

Psalms 7:12

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

If he turn not, he will whet his sword; he hath bent his bow, and made it ready.

Analysis

---

God's judgment is presented as conditional: 'If he turn not' provides opportunity for repentance, but persistence in evil brings swift judgment. The imagery of sharpening a sword and bending a bow depicts active preparation for destruction. This teaches that God's patience has limits - judgment delayed is not judgment denied. The weapons metaphor shows judgment is purposeful and prepared, not impulsive. This verse should drive the wicked to repentance while assuring the righteous that justice will come.

Historical Context

Ancient warfare preparation involved careful maintenance of weapons. The imagery would be familiar to David's audience. The conditional 'if he turn not' reflects God's pattern throughout Scripture - warning before judgment, offering opportunity for repentance (Ezekiel 18:23). Final fulfillment comes in Revelation where Christ returns as warrior-king with sword and judgment.

Study Questions

---

1. How does knowing God's judgment is prepared affect your urgency in gospel witness?
2. Are there areas where you're presuming on God's patience rather than turning from sin?
