

Psalms 72:18

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Blessed be the LORD God, the God of Israel, who only doeth wondrous things.

Analysis

The doxology 'Blessed be the LORD God, the God of Israel' praises Yahweh specifically as Israel's covenant God. 'Who only doeth wondrous things' affirms that genuine miracles come from God alone, not human power or false gods. This exclusive claim—'only'—asserts monotheism and God's unique ability to accomplish the impossible. The wonders include both creation and redemption, climaxing in Christ's incarnation, death, and resurrection—the greatest wonders of all.

Historical Context

Israel's history was marked by divine wonders—plagues, Red Sea crossing, manna, conquest victories. These validated Yahweh as the true God against competing deities, demonstrating His exclusive power.
