

Psalms 72:5

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

They shall fear thee as long as the sun and moon endure, throughout all generations.

Analysis

The people fearing God 'as long as the sun and moon endure, throughout all generations' describes perpetual worship across all time. This astronomical imagery emphasizes permanence—worship continuing until creation itself ends. 'All generations' ensures continuity of faith from parents to children endlessly. This vision finds fulfillment in the eternal worship of Revelation 22:3-5, where God's servants serve Him forever. True worship transcends individual lifespans, becoming eternal reality.

Historical Context

Israel's covenant included multi-generational promises—God's faithfulness to Abraham's descendants forever (Genesis 17:7). Each generation's responsibility was transmitting faith to the next, ensuring perpetual worship.
