

Psalm 73:13

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Verily I have cleansed my heart in vain, and washed my hands in innocency.

Analysis

The psalmist's despairing conclusion: 'Verily I have cleansed my heart in vain; and washed my hands in innocency for nought.' If righteousness brings no advantage and wickedness no disadvantage, why pursue holiness? This represents the crisis point before resolution. The temptation is abandoning righteousness when it doesn't pay immediate dividends. Yet verse 17 will reverse this conclusion when eternal perspective is gained. Righteousness is never 'in vain' (1 Corinthians 15:58).

Historical Context

This despair echoes Malachi 3:14—'It is vain to serve God.' Israel questioned whether covenant faithfulness mattered if obedience brought suffering and disobedience brought prosperity. Only eternal judgment resolves this apparent injustice.
