

Psalm 93:4

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

The LORD on high is mightier than the noise of many waters, yea, than the mighty waves of the sea.

Analysis

The comparative 'mightier than' (adir—magnificent, powerful) establishes God's absolute supremacy over all natural and spiritual forces. The parallelism between 'noise of many waters' and 'mighty waves of the sea' encompasses both auditory and visual representations of overwhelming power—yet God is greater still. 'The LORD on high' emphasizes both His transcendent position and His authority. This verse demonstrates that no force in creation can threaten God's sovereign rule.

Historical Context

Israel's deliverance at the Red Sea provided a historical reference point for God's power over waters, transforming natural imagery into redemptive theology.
