

Psalms 94:2

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Lift up thyself, thou judge of the earth: render a reward to the proud.

Analysis

Addressing God as 'Judge of the earth' (shofet ha'arets) appeals to His universal jurisdiction and authority. The request to 'lift up thyself' (hinase) uses imagery of a judge rising to pronounce sentence. 'Render a reward to the proud' (hashev gemul —return recompense) invokes the principle of divine retribution against arrogance. Pride is singled out because it represents fundamental rebellion against God's rightful authority. This verse establishes God's role as cosmic judge who will definitively address human pride.

Historical Context

Throughout Scripture, pride is identified as the root sin (Isaiah 14:12-15, James 4:6), making it the appropriate target for divine judgment.

Study Questions

1. In what ways does pride manifest in your life, and how does awareness of God as Judge address it?

2. How can you maintain humility knowing that God actively opposes the proud?
