

Revelation 13:14

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound by a sword, and did live.

Analysis

The deception of earth-dwellers through signs demonstrates spiritual warfare's nature. The command to make an image recalls Nebuchadnezzar's golden statue (Daniel 3), forcing worship under threat of death. This represents state-enforced idolatry supported by religious deception. Reformed theology affirms that unregenerate hearts are vulnerable to Satan's deceptions, while the elect, though tested, cannot be ultimately deceived (Matthew 24:24). The 'wound by a sword and did live' refers to the first beast's apparent resurrection, counterfeiting Christ to attract worship. False religion always mimics truth to deceive.

Historical Context

Roman emperors erected statues demanding worship throughout the empire. Refusing to offer incense to Caesar's image brought persecution. The beast's revival (13:3) may allude to Nero's death and rumors of his return. This vision prepared Christians to recognize state-enforced idolatry supported by religious authorities as Satanic, regardless of popular acceptance.

Study Questions

1. How does Satan use counterfeit versions of truth (like the beast's false resurrection) to deceive people today?
2. What pressures do you face to conform to cultural 'images' demanding allegiance contrary to Christ?
