

Romans 5:21

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

That as sin hath reigned unto death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life by Jesus Christ our Lord.

Analysis

That as sin hath reigned unto death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life by Jesus Christ our Lord—Paul concludes the Adam-Christ typology with paired reigns. Sin ἐβασίλευσεν (ebasileusen, 'reigned') ἐν τῷ θανάτῳ (en tō thanatō, 'in/through death'), exercising tyrannical dominion through humanity's mortality and condemnation.

But grace βασιλεύσῃ (basileusē, aorist subjunctive, 'might reign') διὰ δικαιοσύνης (dia dikaiosynēs, 'through righteousness') unto ζωὴν αἰώνιον (zōēn aiōnion, 'eternal life'). Grace doesn't reign through overlooking sin but through providing righteousness—Christ's imputed righteousness securing justification. The goal is not temporary reprieve but eternal life, διὰ Ἰησοῦ Χριστοῦ τοῦ κυρίου ἡμῶν (through Jesus Christ our Lord)—the full title emphasizing His person (Jesus—Savior), work (Christ—Messiah), and authority (Lord—κύριος). All salvation is through Him, from first to last.

Historical Context

This verse's majestic conclusion summarizes Romans 5's argument: two humanities under two heads experiencing two destinies. Adam's headship results in sin's reign unto death; Christ's headship results in grace's reign unto eternal life. The church fathers saw this as cosmic warfare—sin and death defeated, grace and life enthroned. The verse anticipates Paul's fuller development in chapter 6

(dead to sin, alive to God) and chapter 8 (no condemnation, eternal life secure in Christ).

Study Questions

1. How does grace reigning 'through righteousness' differ from grace that ignores sin or merely shows pity?
2. What does it mean practically that grace 'reigns' in your life—how would your daily decisions differ if grace is truly king?
3. How does the phrase 'by/through Jesus Christ our Lord' emphasize that He is not merely helper but the exclusive source and channel of grace?
