

Titus 1:9

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Holding fast the faithful word as he hath been taught, that he may be able by sound doctrine both to exhort and to convince the gainsayers.

Analysis

Holding fast the faithful word as he hath been taught—ἀντεχόμενον (antechomenon, clinging to/holding firmly) depicts tenacious grip on doctrinal truth. τοῦ πιστοῦ λόγου (tou pistou logou, the faithful/reliable word) refers to apostolic teaching, the Christian deposit. κατὰ τὴν διδαχήν (kata tēn didachēn, according to the teaching) stresses conformity to received tradition, not innovation. Elders conserve and transmit doctrine, not invent it.

That he may be able by sound doctrine both to exhort and to convince the gainsayers—two pastoral functions require doctrinal mastery. First, παρακαλέω (parakaleō, exhort/encourage) builds up believers through healthy teaching. Second, ἐλέγχω (elegchō, refute/convict) confronts ἀντιλέγοντας (antilegontas, those who speak against/contradict). Biblical eldership requires both nurturing orthodoxy and refuting heresy—positive and polemical theology.

Historical Context

The false teachers in Crete (1:10-11) required elders who could both teach positively and argue negatively. Unlike modern anti-doctrinal sentimentality, first-century Christianity demanded theological precision to preserve the gospel against distortion. The "faithful word" was an objective deposit, not subjective experience.

Study Questions

1. Are you "holding fast" to apostolic doctrine, or have modern innovations and cultural accommodation compromised your beliefs?
2. Can you both encourage believers with sound teaching and refute false doctrine, or do you only know how to critique?
3. What false teaching currently threatens your church community, and are your leaders equipped to both exhort and rebuke?
