A LONG, LONG time ago, there was nothing at all—just darkness everywhere. But God was there!

Then God said, 'Let there be light!' And POP! Light appeared! God liked it. He called the light 'Day' and the darkness 'Night.'

The next day, God made the beautiful blue sky. Then He made the land and the oceans. He filled the land with pretty flowers, tall trees, and yummy fruits.

God put the bright sun in the sky for daytime and the moon and twinkly stars for nighttime. He filled the oceans with fish—big ones and tiny ones! He filled the sky with birds that could sing and fly.

Then God made all the animals—fuzzy ones, scaly ones, ones that hop, and ones that roar! But God wasn't done yet.

God made something extra special: people! He made the first man, Adam, and breathed life into him. God made people to be like Him, to love Him and take care of His beautiful world.

God looked at EVERYTHING He made and said, 'This is VERY good!' Then God rested. He made the whole world in six days!
